ABOUT

Software engineer and team lead with 17+ years of experience building scalable systems and leading high-performing teams across Europe and the Middle East. I care deeply about clean architecture, developer culture, and shipping things that actually work. I've worn many hats — backend engineer, mobile developer, team lead, technical consultant — and bring that full-stack perspective to every project. Outside of code, I'm a talkative extrovert who loves travel and photography.
